To Whom it may concern:

I would like to respectfully suggest:

- 1) That Microsoft be required to publish and commit to the Public Domain the API's (Application Program Interfaces) ("documented" and "undocumented") for all of their Operating Systems from MSDOS V1.0 onwards and into the future;
- 2) That likewise they be required to commit to the Public Domain the source code for all of their Operating Systems from MSDOS V1.0 to (but not including) Windows XP;
- 3) That they be restrained from anti-competitive practices in perpetuity.

Thank you,
